NIH NATIONAL CANCER INSTITUTE

Provide Feedback on NIH Data Management and Sharing Plan Pilot Templates

January 24, 2024

NIH is collaborating with the Federal Demonstration Partnership to engage researchers in an NIH Data Management and Sharing (DMS) Pilot, and they need your input on templates created to help applicants write a DMS Plan.

Visit the Federal Demonstration Partnership website to access either of the two pilot templates. As an NCI researcher, you can use these templates in writing a DMS Plan to submit with a funding application, or to get a better understanding of what we expect to see in your plan.

To help you decide which one to use, keep in mind that the “alpha” template limits the need for free-text entry, while the “bravo” template includes prompts with the option to add free-text entries.

Try out a template and let us know what you think.

Submit your feedback through a Qualtrics survey.

< Older Post
Algorithm Shines Light on Cancer Cell Neighborhoods

Newer Post >
Funding Available to Support Development of Digital Twins in Radiation Oncology

---

If you would like to reproduce some or all of this content, see Reuse of NCI Information for guidance about copyright and permissions. In the case of permitted digital reproduction, please credit the National Cancer Institute as the source and link to the original NCI product using the original product's title; e.g., “Provide Feedback on NIH Data Management and Sharing Plan Pilot Templates was originally published by the National Cancer Institute.”

Archive

2025 (38)
2024 (112)
2022 (5)