ODS Symposium

On October 15th and 16th, 2024, the NCI Office of Data Sharing (ODS) is hosting the 2nd Annual Data Sharing Symposium titled Driving Cancer Advances through Impactful Research located at Masur Auditorium inside the Clinical Center at the National Institutes of Health in Bethesda, MD.

This two-day hybrid event will include learning sessions, panel discussion and thinktank opportunities to address meaningful data sharing and data use, followed immediately by the NCI Cancer Research Data Commons (CRDC) Symposium which will focus on how this data science infrastructure fits in the data sharing lifecycle to support cancer research.

Announcements

Request for Information on the National Institutes of Health Draft Public Access

Policy. The National Institutes of Health (NIH) is soliciting comments from the public on the NIH Draft Public Access Policy and two supplemental draft guidance documents regarding government use license and rights and costs for publications. The NIH Draft Public Access Policy builds upon NIH's long history of providing public access to scholarly publications resulting from the research it supports and proposes additional steps to accelerate access. Use the Comment Form to submit responses by August 19, 2024.

Data Sharing Policy Guidance, developed by the NCI's Office of Data Sharing, details the people, policies, requirements, and resources needed to start planning the sharing of scientific data.

---

Request for Information (RFI): Integrating At-Home Test Results with Electronic Health Records. NOT-EB-24-010. The goal of the RFI is to gather input on the technical feasibility and practical implications of reporting home test results directly into EHRs. We're interested in responses from health IT developers, healthcare organizations, healthcare providers, and patients. Response requested by July 26, 2024.
